

THE FLOCK FIGHTS BACK

Talk About It

One sheep sees something weird—tell the flock! Share stories of scam calls, fake texts, or suspicious emails. Make it normal to ask, “Does this seem right to you?”

Help Each Other

Grandma might not know how to update her phone—but her grandkid does. Help family members turn on automatic updates, set up strong passwords, and use two-step login.

Learn

Don’t just “leave it to IT” or “the kids.” Use free, trusted resources to learn about online safety together such as: StaySafeOnline.org, CybersecurityLiteracy.org, or Consumer.FTC.gov.

Pause Before You Click

Walter loves when we act fast and don’t think. Before clicking a link or sharing a post, pause and ask: Do I know who sent this? Was I expecting it? Does it feel urgent or strange?

Celebrate

Cybersecurity isn’t just blocking viruses—it’s spotting fakes, using good habits, and helping each other. Praise curiosity, caution, and asking questions. The flock that learns together stays safe together.

Resources:

- cisa.gov/shields-up
- cyberhouserock.info
- cisa.gov/topics/cybersecurity-best-practices

